

Variables

Michael Brodskiy

Professor: Mrs. Polivka

August 21, 2020

- Independent Variable – Something changed by the scientist in an experiment
- Dependent Variable – Something that is affected by the change in the independent variable
- Control – An experimental group, where the independent variable is held constant (this allows for a fair test, by having a comparison)